Guidelines for Community Service Organizations Applying for the Community Fund Application - UNRESTRICTED/GENERAL OPERATING SUPPORT (GOS) Housing and Homelessness Q1 2025

About United Way Waterloo Region Communities

At United Way Waterloo Region Communities, we are dedicated to helping people live better lives in every one of the seven communities we serve. We are fundraisers who support a network of agencies whose programs and services are locally focused, informed, connected, and are invested in helping people access the tools they need to thrive.

About the GOS Grant

The GOS (General Operating Support) grant is designed to provide flexible funding that supports an organization's overall mission. With minimal restrictions, this grant empowers recipients to allocate funds toward their self-identified priorities, helping to strengthen internal systems and enhance organizational capacity. If your proposal primarily focuses on a specific aspect of your services, it may be better suited for a program/project application. For more details, please refer to the Program/Project Guide here.

A copy of the Application Questions is appended to this document.

Community Impact Fund Process Changes

Over the past four years, our application model was tailored to address the evolving challenges posed by the pandemic and its aftermath. By adopting a quarterly funding approach, we prioritized flexibility, enabling us to adapt to shifting community needs and fluctuating fundraising outcomes. However, this reliance on short-term funding cycles brought its own challenges. Organizations faced difficulties in planning annual budgets with funding secured only one quarter at a time, while the frequent application process placed significant demands on the time and resources of both applicants and United Way WRC.

Our transition to an annual funding model is intended to streamline our process and enable deeper, more impactful funding commitments. However, we recognize that this shift may lead to fewer applicants being funded per cycle unless fundraising revenue increases. We deeply regret that our current resources are insufficient to fully address the critical needs of the most vulnerable in our region, and we are actively working to close this gap. Before investing your time in this process, please note that our capacity to invest in new programs or organizations is extremely limited at this time.

While we will continue accepting applications quarterly, each quarter will focus exclusively on one or two designated Issue Areas. For the upcoming quarter (April–June 2025), applications will be open solely to organizations aligned with the Affordable Housing and Homelessness Issue Area outlined below. If you’re unsure whether your organization qualifies or wish to propose an initiative not listed, please contact United Way staff for guidance.

Q1 Affordable Housing and Homelessness Issue Area Description

Poverty is a multifaceted issue influenced by numerous intersecting factors that can hinder an individual's ability to meet basic needs such as shelter. This quarter's funding focus is on Affordable Housing and Homelessness, encompassing initiatives such as prevention measures, emergency shelters, assistance with securing permanent housing, and support services aimed at mitigating the adverse health impacts related to being unhoused.

To provide greater clarity, we've divided the Issue Area into subcategories. You will be asked to select the two categories that best represent the services outlined in your application.

- Homelessness Prevention (Ex: Shelter Diversion, Housing Retention, Eviction Prevention, etc.)
- Research
- Advocacy/Education
- Emergency Shelter
- Supportive Housing
- Transitional Housing
- Finding & securing housing

If you are unsure if you qualify for this quarter, please reach out to United Way WRC staff before applying.

Collaborative Application Option

Network Applications

Historically, Network Applications were available as "Self-Organized Network Applications." This investment option supports networks that represent:

- Groups of similar service providers collaborating as an organized network of service, or
- Complementary services working together on a common issue.

Each organization may submit only one application per funding cycle, either individually or as part of a collaborative submission. If a network is successfully funded in one quarter, they may not apply again until 12 months from the funding start date have passed.

Application Requirements

Organizations interested in submitting a Network Application must contact United Way Waterloo Region Communities (United Way WRC) staff at least two weeks before the application deadline.

Funding Details:

- Hard maximum funding request: $400,000
- Networks must align with one United Way WRC Issue Area focusing on addressing poverty
- A Lead Organization must be identified to manage the application and reporting process
- Networks must evaluate their work using consistent methods and indicators across all partners
- A Network Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) must be created, signed, and submitted within three months of receiving United Way WRC funding

Roles & Expectations

Network Lead Organization Responsibilities:

- Must be a registered charity or eligible donee
- Responsible for coordinating the application and reporting submission
- Lead the creation and sign-off of the Network MOU between members

Network Member Organization Responsibilities:

- Deliver programs and services as agreed upon
- Fulfill responsibilities outlined in the Network MOU
- Provide necessary organizational information to the Network Lead Organization

- Sign off on the United Way WRC Funding Agreement (if applicable)

This funding opportunity fosters collaboration among organizations working to address poverty in the Waterloo Region, ensuring coordinated efforts for greater community impact.

How are grant applications evaluated?

Each application is carefully reviewed by a team of trained volunteers, consisting of community members from diverse backgrounds. As a community-based funder, UWWRC values the insight and input of local voices in our evaluation process. Volunteer feedback is an essential component of staff deliberations, contributing to final funding decisions alongside several other key factors.

Staff members bring their expertise in community services to the review process, complementing the varied experiences and perspectives of our volunteer reviewers. This diverse mix of knowledge strengthens the evaluation process, resulting in more well-rounded and informed funding decisions.

Given the high volume of applications UWWRC receives, it's essential to clearly articulate your program, service, and the related community needs in every application. Providing a detailed and compelling picture ensures that the full impact and value of your work are effectively communicated.

Most questions are evaluated on a 1–5 rating scale based on the criteria outlined in this guide, with scores averaged to produce a final rating. Reviewers and staff also provide comments throughout the application, responding to prompts that align with the evaluation criteria for each section.

New Process FAQ

Q: Can I apply for multiple quarters?

You may apply for multiple quarters if you have not received funding from us in the past 12 months, provided you meet the eligibility criteria for each quarter's Issue Area.

Q: What happens if my application does not align with the designated Issue Area?

Applications that do not meet the quarter's eligibility criteria will be pulled from the review process.

Q: Can I apply for funding under a different project or stream if I've already received funding?

No. Only one funded application per organization is permitted per year. This does not include organizations acting as a sponsor.

Q: Will both streams be available for every quarter?

You will have the option to select GOS or Program/Project each quarter or be part of a collaborative application.

Q: What if I want to apply under a different Issue Area than the one I was previously funded for?

You must wait at least 12 months from your funding start date before applying again. If you wish to apply under a different Issue Area, you will need to wait until the next funding cycle, which would extend beyond a year. For instance, if you receive funding in Q1 2025 (“Affordable Housing & Homelessness”); and wish to apply under the Issue Area “Children & Youth” the following year, you will be able to apply in Q2 2026

Tips for a High-Scoring Application

- Be clear about the connection to this quarter’s Issue Area throughout the application. Applications will be evaluated on the strength of alignment to the quarter’s Issue Area
- Reviewers and staff will also be evaluating how anti-oppression, equity, diversity and inclusion is integrated into your organization. There is additional criteria provided in this guide
- Answer the prompts under the questions, and refer to the guide for additional evaluation criteria

Theory of Change

Poverty is Complex

To address such a complex issue, we first need to understand the root causes of poverty, and how systemic discrimination creates unequal access to resources, including the tools to break the cycle of poverty.

Barriers to breaking the cycle of poverty include: language, mental health and addiction challenges, unemployment, trauma, and discrimination based on race, class, ability sexual orientation/gender identity, Immigration status, and other factors.

At United Way Waterloo Region Communities, we believe in the network of services to address the unmet needs of community members who are experiencing marginalization. We invest in the expertise of local service providers to address the key interconnected areas that prevent people in our community from reaching their full potential. We believe that these critical areas of investment will contribute to moving people out of poverty:
